ELKS SURRENDER HALL TO COTTON OIL MILL TODAY

Local B. P. O. E. Will Aid
City in Housing New Home Industry.

LODGE SEEKING HOME

General Offices of Plants
Will be Transferred to City at Once.

Elks began moving out of their hall at Main and Rennie in response to a request for office rooms submitted by the newly consolidated Choctaw-Osage Cotton Oil company. "We are turning over our home for the good of the city," a member of the lodge declared this afternoon.

P. A. Norris, general manager of the new cotton oil concern, was absent from the city today but it was generally understood that the company would start moving its central offices from Muskogee to Ada within a short time.

Decision to surrender the Elks hall to serve the cotton oil company was reached at a business meeting of the local B. P. O. E. held Monday night. A committee composed of Roff, Wacker, Henry, Hoover, Breco, Harroway and H. Schienberg was appointed to find the local lodge a new home.

To Build Soon
It will be the purpose of local Elks to secure temporary club rooms for about two years, a member of the committee announced. At the end of that time the lodge contemplates building a modern club house, as good as any in this part of the state.

Several places are being considered as temporary club rooms, the committee stated.

On August 22, the Choctaw Cotton Oil company announced the completion of a deal whereby it purchased property of the Osage Cotton Oil company, consisting of cotton seed oil mills and gins scattered over Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas, and Florida.

Officers of the new company are P. J. Phillips, Greenville, Texas, president; P. A. Norris, Ada, vice-president; and general manager; Hugh Halsell, Dallas, vice-president; A. B. Scarborough, Bonham, Texas, vice-president; and E. J. Mc Kinney, Ada, Secretary-treasurer.

Holdings of the company consist of 16 oil mills, one refinery of cotton seed oil, one lard compound plant, and 100 gins. The office force is expected to be the largest in Ada.

LOCAL NINE NOW DUE FOR BATTLE WITH O. C. TEAM

After taking two in a row from Healdton, Ada Independents will go against Wilson and Company team of Oklahoma City here Sunday afternoon in the race for state baseball amateur championship. Two games will be played, one Sunday afternoon and the other on Labor Day.

Wilson and Company has one of the strongest teams in the state. A week ago the team played two games with the McAlester Western Association league team, winning one game and losing the other. For 12 innings in the first game the packers battled the league team, winning by the score of 11 to 10. In the second game they were defeated 7 to 4.

Ada played a 12 inning tie with the packers here at the opening of the season. Score was 1 and 1. Later in the season the locals managed to get a 2 to 1 victory over the contenders for the state title. Ada has played many of the teams this season that the packers have played and both have won. The series of two games beginning Sunday will be one of the deciding features in the state amateur championship contest.

Ada was given a chance to play the McAlester team on the dates they have games with Wilson and Company. Many other teams have clamored for games with the locals, fearing to give bonafide guarantees of large gate receipts for any game. Manager Green said today he had been informed that the local amateur team was the best drawing card for an amateur club in the state.

GRIEF STRICKEN FAMILIES OF 48 IMPRISONED MINERS CLING TO HOPE THAT MEN ARE ALIVE

Canary Birds Die in Proof That Descent Into Pit is Dangerous.

(By the Associated Press)
JACKSON, CALI., Aug. 29.—Held in the grim grip of despair as hour follows hour in their vigil, families and fellow workers of the 48 gold miners imprisoned since midnight Sunday nearly a mile below the earth's surface in the Argonaut mine, cling stubbornly to the shred of hope that their husbands, fathers and buddies still live.

Canary birds told the rescue workers the futility of attempting further descents into the shaft. The birds gave their lives in warning of the danger of the descent.

They were lowered into the shaft by rescue workers from the state bureau of mines at Berkeley. The strings which were paid out as the canary cages were lowered were carefully measured. The tests showed that the descent to 2700 feet could be made, but that further was perilous.

Men who may never see the light of day again as the result of a fire, may come to life on the motion picture screen. A San Francisco film company recently visited the mine to make crew scenes of the "Mother Load Country" as a motion picture background. Many men of the Argonaut mine took part in filming the picture.

DRUNK CHARGES FLOOD DOCKETS OF CITY COURT

Ten cases were on police records this morning as a result of regular week-end raids by the city police force. Most of the cases were on charges of drunkenness. Police expressed the opinion that a shipment of whiskey probably had been received here and distributed. They are making efforts to locate the source of the whiskey and reported that they assisted county officers in capturing some booze Monday.

Among those whose names appeared on the docket today on charges of being drunk were: Ed Fussell, guilty, $8.75; Roan Suggs, found guilty but case dismissed; Walter Colbert, guilty, $14.75; Zack Smith, arrested Sunday and found guilty, $8.75; John Stevens, guilty, $8.75; Zack Smith, arrested Monday and found guilty, $8.75. Some of the men pleaded guilty and others were found guilty on trial.

G. W. Burns was arrested on a charge of unlawful possession of liquor and fined $8.75 when found guilty. Ed Bales, charged with loitering in dark town, was found guilty and fined $8.75.

Two men, one of whom refused to give his name, were arrested for leaving their cars on the streets at night. Each was fined $1. John Cahen was one of the men arrested. The other gave his address as Francis, but said he would not give his name. "It's worth a dollar to have my car taken care of like that," he remarked after handing the judge the fee.

One or two cases were ready to be tried today and it was announced that court would probably convene later.

PICHER FIRE RESULTS IN DAMAGE OF $25,000

MIAMI, Okla., Aug. 29.—A fire in a string of storage sheds at the Eagle Picher lead company, at Picher, last night, caused a loss of $25,000. The fire is thought to have originated through a short circuit in a motor truck.

Hawaiian Seeking Divorce After 37 Years of Waiting

(By the Associated Press)
HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 29.—Colburn H. Maemae, Hawaiian, waited 37 years for his wife, Emily, to return to him before he brought suit for divorce on the ground of desertion, he testified here at the hearing on his case.

Maemae and his wife were married in Ewa, Oahu, in 1884, the year following the coronation of King Kalakaua, and she left him four months after the marriage, he testified. Since then he has waited for her return but finally concluded that she "meant to stay away," he said.

Mrs. Maemae now is a "fisher-lady" and resides on one of the small islands in Kalihi harbor, adjoining Honolulu bay, her husband testified.

BIG PAVING TASK NEARLY COMPLETE

Workmen are Shifted to South Broadway Job as They Finish.

Work on the paving job on South Townsend avenue was rapidly drawing to a close Tuesday. Last concrete was put down and a crew of men started general clean-up work. It will be a matter of ten to fifteen days, however, before all of the street is opened to traffic, contractors said.

Simultaneous with the completion of the paving work on South Townsend, work was started Monday on the paving of one block on South Broadway, extending from the south line of Twelfth street to the north line of Thirteenth. I. E. Hanson, who was given the Townsend paving job, also was the successful bidder for the Broadway work and is transferring his men from one job to the other as rapidly as he can.

Material for the Broadway job will be on the ground by the time excavation work is completed. One of the difficulties of this work is that the fire department will have trouble in getting trucks out of the station in case of fire. Plans are being made, however, whereby the trucks will be able to make a quick getaway from the station in case of alarm.

Many Weeks Required.
Many weeks has been required for the Townsend paving. The contract also included one block on West Seventeenth street. South end of the street has already been opened to traffic and other blocks are being opened as rapidly as the concrete becomes hard.

A big job now confronts contractors in removing earth from the street which was taken out to give the proper grading to the pavement. Thousands of yards of dirt was removed, especially at the south end, which must be taken away. This work will require considerable time.

Reports from the city hall Tuesday said property owners on West Main are eager to get the street paved from the Santa Fe tracks to Glenwood school. They have asked the city commissioners to prepare a petition which they will endeavor to get signed. In case the West Main paving project goes through, it will be the fourth within a year for this place, which is more paving work than has been done here in a long period.

BURGLARS GET TRUCK LOAD OF CIGARETTES

(By the Associated Press)
OKMULGEE, Aug. 29.—Burglars broke into the Whitebeck-Dale grocery company warehouse Monday night and after stealing a truck load of cigarettes and tobacco and a typewriter, made good their escape. Officers believe that the stolen goods were hauled away in a light truck. The loot taken from the warehouse included 22 cases of one brand of cigarettes, 20,000 cigarettes of various other brands, 120 pounds of chewing tobacco, and the typewriter.

COLLINS' BROTHER TELLS HOW MICHAEL REMAINED TO DIE

Patrick Collins.

That Michael Collins' loyalty to Ireland prevented him from settling in the United States is the statement of his brother, Patrick Collins, a member of the Chicago police force. Patrick says the commander of the Free State army at one time purchased a ticket for the U. S., intending to settle in this country, but cancelled his passage when trouble broke out anew in Ireland, only to meet death at an assassin's hands.

Lloyd George Hopes for Prompt Payment of Debt to America

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Aug. 29.—Prime Minister Lloyd George in conversation with Col. E. M. House, who breakfasted with the premier this morning, reiterated Great Britain's intention to discharge her present debt to the United States to the last cent. The conversation between the two men was largely reminiscent, covering the war, the armistice, the peace conference and the war's aftermath. Col. House said he found Premier Lloyd George in cheerful spirits, taking an optimistic view of things—sanguine that a solution would be found for the present grave difficulties of Europe, especially if America lent its influence.

PASTOR IS BOUND OVER FOR FRAUDS

McAlester Minister Must Stand Trial on Brooks
Embezzlement.

(By the Associated Press)
MCALISTER, Aug. 29.—The Rev. J. C. Trotter, alias Lonnie N. Trotter, former financial secretary of Brooks Institute at Hartshorn and pastor of the Methodist church, south, at Halleyville, must stand trial in the district court for alleged embezzlement of funds belonging to that institution.

The state's side of the preliminary was ended abruptly after conclusion of the auditor's testimony at 11 o'clock this morning. Trotter's attorney demurred to evidence introduced and was overruled by Justice Treadwell, who presided. After a hurried consultation with the defendant, Attorney Wilkinson, representing him, declared Trotter would introduce no witnesses and that their side would also rest. Judge Treadwell announced that in his opinion evidence given by the state was sufficient and he held Rev. Trotter for trial. Bond was set at $3,000 and the former minister was committed to jail in default.

The date for Miss Audrey Campbell's trial has not been set.

Harding's Plan for Government Agency on Coal Abandoned

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Definite abandonment of President Harding's proposal to congress for a federal coal agency with capital to buy, sell and distribute coal was announced today by the house today by Chairman Winslow of the interstate commerce committee at the beginning of a debate on the bill to create machinery to supervise distribution only. The change in plans, Mr. Winslow said, had been favored by President Harding, whose suggestion for a purchasing and selling agency had been thrust into the back ground of consideration almost as soon as it was submitted.

VETERAN FOOTBALL MEN READY TO PLUNGE INTO TRAINING AS ADA HIGH SEASON DRAWS NEAR

Haskell Man Says
He's Lucky After
$100,000 Disaster

MUSKOGEE, Aug. 29.—"I'm the luckiest guy in town." W. J. Criswell stood in the street at Haskell yesterday and viewed the wreckage of the disaster of Friday morning that cost him just $100,000—and grinned.

The owner of the Criswell Hotel, the Merchants Union grocery store and the two story brick building they occupied, just drove in from Minnesota and found his wife and daughter staying in homes of friends, nursing bruises from the greatest fire Haskell has ever known. And he considered himself lucky—though he had lost a nice fortune—because his family was still alive.

Incidentally, Criswell and his son Frank, drove from Minnesota in an automobile in time that few have made.

Captain Frank Potts Will Work Out Material in Pre-Season Days.

With the arrival of more men daily, men who have been out of the city on their vacations, Coach C. R. Cox of the high school football team, said Tuesday his squad was looking better and that by the time regular school work was underway he would have a fairly well seasoned string of men.

Many veterans of the 1921 squad have already started work. Most interest, however, is being shown by the newer and younger aspirants to the squad. Coach Cox, who is not allowed to go on the field, said that from observation he believed some of them were candidates would make a strong bid for places on the team and that some of the 1921 men would be required to work hard to retain their old positions.

Captain Frank Potts has charge of the men. The first two weeks are being spent in seasoning work. For the most part his men are rounding into shape in good form and will be ready for the rough work within two weeks. Skirmish work will be started soon after school opens.

Although no definite steps have been taken at try-outs for positions on the team, Captain Potts said today that at present candidates for backfield could be Hargis at full back, Potts, Carr and Nettles at half backs and probably Deaver at quarter. Rayburn, Gregg and Baker will be candidate for end positions and the line will be composed of Willoughby, King, Krieger, Mollo and several other second string men who showed up well last season.

Missionary Society Meets

A call meeting of the Missionary Society of the First Methodist church will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the church. This is an important meeting and all members are urged to be present.

PREPARE ADA MEN FOR STRIKE DUTY

National Guardsmen Get Instructions on How to Meet Demand.

Battery F, 160th F. A., Oklahoma National Guard, in regular drill Monday night, was given foot drill and instructions concerning strike duty. Local officers are of the opinion that the local company will never be needed for strike duty, but they want the men to be ready in case of such an emergency.

Captain Robert Kerr said Tuesday that several men of his unit wanted to attend school here this year provided they could secure work paying enough to pay their expenses. "They are all good fellows, with character beyond reproach, and are willing workers," the captain said. Anyone with a job of this nature should get in touch with Capt. Kerr.

In this connection school authorities report that there is a greater number of men wanting to work their way through school now than ever before in history. Efforts are being made to obtain employment for the men and in some cases jobs are being found.

Coach M. Z. Thompson at the college reports that many good men for athletic teams could be obtained here if jobs could be found for them. They are, for the most part, energetic boys, he said, and willing to work.

The opinion was given out by some school men that if local business men and employers would retain jobs for boys and men who are anxious to obtain an education by working for it, the local schools would in turn be greatly benefited.

HORSE SHOE PITCHERS COMPETING FOR TITLE

(By the Associated Press)
DES MOINES, Aug. 29.—The national horse shoe pitching tournament for the championship of the United States opened here today with an entry list of 30 contestants from all parts of the country, including California, Oklahoma and Ohio.

C. & A. WALKOUT ENDS

Rail Official Persuades the Men to Resume Train Service Again.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—The walk-out of Chicago and Alton trainmen at Roodhouse, Ill., is over. Striking engineers and company officials met at Slater, Mo., in a move to end the C. and A. tie-up there. The United States Railroad Labor board continued its hearings on the application of maintenance of way employees for increased wages. Five men were held on charges of murder in connection with the Michigan Central wreck at Gary, Ind., August 20, when two of the train crew were killed.

These were the important developments in the railroad situation today following bomb outrages, shootings, wreck plots and investigation by federal, state and private operatives during the last 24 hours.

Bombing of the homes of railroad employees at Bloomington, Ill., and Montgomery, Ala., the shooting of a C. and A. watchman in Chicago, a gun fight between railroad guards and a sniper at Moline, Ill., and the dynamiting of a bridge at Spuds, Fla., were among the disorders reported from different sections of the country.

BRIGHT PROMISE AIDS IN STARTING TRAINS

(By the Associated Press)
ROODHOUSE, Ill., Aug. 29.—After promising trainmen that he would "give them everything but the railroad," Vice-President Titus of the Chicago and Alton railroad company, this morning had the satisfaction of seeing the first train in sixty hours leave Roodhouse, bearing two passengers to St. Louis.

U. S. BOARD DECLINES TO DEFINE A "LIVING WAGE"

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—The United States Railroad Labor board today denied the motion of Jett Lauck, labor statistician, that the board immediately define the principles of "a living wage" in the case of the maintenance of way employees who are seeking increased minimum rates of pay. At the request of E. F. Grable, president of the maintenance of way organization, the hearing then was adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Mr. Grable announced that he was telegraphing President Harding and Senator Cummins today asking them to present to congress an amendment to the transportation act which would make it mandatory on the labor board to "enunciate the principles of the living wage."

FOUR MEN CONFESS WRECKING OF TRAIN

(By the Associated Press)
GARY, Ind., Aug. 29.—Confessions signed and sworn to, of four men held by the Gary police on charges of murder in connection with the wrecking of a Michigan Central express train on August 20, today were in the hands of Dwight Kinder, county prosecutor, preparatory to presentation to the Lake county grand jury, according to the authorities.

Body of Man Lashed to Guiding Gear of Car Sunk in Stream

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 29.—Authorities of Wyandotte county, Kansas, are preparing this afternoon to recover from the Missouri river an automobile, to the steering wheel of which the body of a man is supposed to be lashed. Acting on an anonymous tip the authorities sent divers into the river late yesterday and just before dark they reported they had found such a car, and that a white man had been bound to it. The tip had indicated that the body of a negro would be found.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

PEACE AND SAFETY:—Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee; because he trusteth in thee.—Isaiah 26:3.

It is hard to convince some people that a newspaper does not necessarily endorse everything that appears in its columns. It cannot long remain a newspaper if it should adopt a policy of printing only what its editor likes to print. Not a day passes but what things happen of interest to the public that the editor would much prefer had not happened but it is up to him to give the facts. Two years ago every paper in the United States published the fact that Harding had been elected, but a great many, the News included, would have greatly preferred to have been able to give it otherwise. It was given as it was because it was a fact and a fact the public was deeply interested in.

We are forever trying to settle all the troubles of this old world by mere human material agencies. Maybe we do not go deep enough into things. A man doesn't have to be a preacher, nor even a pious person, to see the force of Tom Marshall's words. Since he quit being vice-president of the United States, Mr. Marshall has been traveling in foreign lands, studying social and business conditions as they exist. On his return to America he says: "I come back to my native state and dare to declare to you that they who would better life must do it through the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule, and the principles of the lowly Nazarene."—Farm Life.

Those who have been in school work in Oklahoma many years and have become acquainted with the work and personality of A. C. Parsons are glad to know that he is now at the head of the schools of Oklahoma City. They believe that he will make good in a big way and give that city an administration which has never been surpassed in efficiency. Mr. Parsons is conscientious, industrious and a thorough student and scholar. We congratulate our largest city on having a man like A. C. Parsons in control of the schools. It forecasts a brighter day.

In the early days of the race when it was every fellow for himself it was truly the rule of the strongest that prevailed. There could be no advancement under such conditions. It was when men learned the lesson of pulling together that the race began to advance. The same rule holds good today. The community that pulls together for the common good is the one that makes progress and the one that desirable citizens select for their homes. Working at cross purposes will wreck any community.

John Henry Kirby, millionaire lumber man, has decided not to make the race for the senate from Texas as an independent. Kirby is a high tariff advocate and would probably have had the support of the Republicans as well as some Democrats had he decided to enter the race. His decision will mean a clear cut race between Mayfield and the Republican nominee which can have but one result. It will be some upheaval when Texas leaves the Democratic column.

The Fort Worth Record warns the country that the measure of protection for Southern interests in the tariff bill as embodied in senate amendments must not be permitted to be lost in the shuffle of the conference committee. The Record is a paper of influence in its own state but it is to be feared that the New England interests who are dictating the provisions of the bill do not read the Record and will therefore overlook the warning.

The communists who are urging the adoption of the Russian system by the United States do not have much to say about the fact that in Russia laborers are forced to work and are guarded to keep them at it. Many hailed the triumph of the soviet as the dawn of an area in which work would be abolished but their eyes have been opened by subsequent events.

Ada is constantly building. No matter how hard times have been since the town began to spread out over the map, some building has been going forward. This indicates that the people have ample confidence in the future of Ada and it may be said that this confidence has been fully justified.

Jim Ferguson, candidate for the Texas senatorship, lost Temple, his home town, by a considerable margin and carried his home county by only twenty votes. Mayfield, his opponent, lost his home county. Evidently the home folks know too much about their candidates.

As per custom the Republican state convention denounced just about everything the Democrats have ever done, but the question naturally arises, would they have done any better had they been in power?

BEHIND THE POLITICAL SCENES

OLD "BIG TIMERS" LINGERING FOR THE CUE TO STAGE A "COMEBACK"

The Forum of the Press

The Republican Opportunity

After the Republican state convention Monday, Oklahoma voters will have before them the respective platforms on which J. C. Walton and John Fields will seek the governorship.

The votes of those with whom party affiliation stands first, already are as good as cast.

The independent thinking voters will consider the pledges made by the nominees in the platforms they and their party conventions have adopted.

Mayor Walton's platform is outspokenly progressive. If the Republicans yield to the somewhat general cry that the Democratic promises are too radical, and write a platform correspondingly conservative, to make the issues clearcut, then their goose is cooked.

They must compete with the Democrats in progressivism if they would appeal to the average Oklahoman this year. The party which seems to promise most sincerely, an effort to bring prosperity back to the Oklahoma farmer, workman and small taxpayer, will win in November—and win it should.

Does it promise an effort to bring relief for the under dog and pledge that law will be administered honestly and by orderly process?

That is the question the independent thinking voter should ask himself regarding each platform before he decides how to stamp his ballot for governor.

Without analyzing the objects or motives of the Ku Klux Klan, this organization has made itself an issue in the general election campaign. Whether by his own wish or not Fields bears the K. K. K. endorsement.

Whether by his own wish or not, Fields thus stands in danger of losing the votes of a very large number of Oklahoma citizens, including thousands who believe that any candidate bearing that endorsement is pledged to a policy hostile to them and their rights.

Fields should be judged solely on his ability and intention to execute the law honestly and progressively.

Any factor entering into the campaign which tends to overshadow this and cause him—or Walton—to lose or gain votes because of racial or religious prejudice is inimical to the cause of good government.

Uncut Friends
(Chickasha Express)

I went into a bookstore today and purchased a dozen books or so. They had come from a private library that the bookseller had himself purchased, says the Bartlesville Enterprise.

I took my treasures home. I took up one of the "fat" ones first, for it looked so full of "pay ore." And though the book showed mild evidence of considerable repose upon the shelf of its former owner, I had to cut the pages of the entire book before I could bury myself in its wealth.

As I read tonight I am reminded of the one who lets a friend go without knowing it—of letting riches slip away, and no acquaintance with it. Tonight I carried this book with me in my car as I drove to work, and then I took it with me into my office where I could have looking at me as I worked and planned. And now it is snuggling tight to me in my chair as I write to you.

This uncut book has made me think of the many human associates who remain to us an uncut book—many of them all their lives.

Just think of the beauty and happiness and loveliness if we would but cut the leaves that bind the possible friends with whom we come in daily contact. I know of many a home where the wife or husband remain as the uncut leaves in a wonderful book—silent and ungiven.

We are known and loved only as we give only as we unfold, only as we have the courage to cut the leaves and therefore partake to the full of that which is rightfully ours.

How many there are who allow those about them to pass to others, simply because they have made no effort to seek the unrevealed—to cut the closed pages. And how rich do those become who see in these neglected beings a complement of themselves, who immediately cut the long closed pages and there discover bright patches of heaven.

LEST WE FORGET
(Muskogee Phoenix)

Jack Walton says he is a Jeffersonian democrat of the purest water. If he is a Jeffersonian democrat in what category do we place R. H. Wilson, Thomas H. Owen, J. R. Keaton, C. B. Ames, Judge Hays, Leslie P. Ross and Judge Dale? But these are not the men Jack is trailing with. Here is a partial list of the prominent (?) men of the state with whom he caucuses:

George Wilson—field manager for the nonpartisan league in Oklahoma in 1920; worked under Townley in North Dakota while under the socialist regime which has absolutely bankrupted that state.

Oscar Ameringer, (sounds like the name of a pure-bred American, doesn't it)—Socialist field man for Victor Berger in Milwaukee, who is now interested in saving the state from "special privilege."

Pat Nagle—former socialist candidate for governor of Oklahoma and acknowledged socialist leaved of ability.

L. N. Sheldon—imported to Oklahoma from North Dakota to assist in fostering the nonpartisan league on the state; in North Dakota he was secretary to Williston, famous North Dakota socialist, the state manager for the national nonpartisan league in Oklahoma in 1917. He was an organizer for Townley. He was a delegate to the national socialist convention in St. Louis.

Luther Langston—former socialist candidate for congress in Oklahoma. Has been an active socialist for many years.

"Red Doyle" (his name sounds like Jeffersonian democracy, doesn't it)—Oklahoma mine union official and boss socialist.

Edgar Fenton—president of the Oklahoma federation of labor, whose party affiliation you may guess.

Ollie Wilson—organizer in Oklahoma for federation of labor, who votes just like Fenton.

J. W. Hubbard—well known socialist who lives in Atoka.

O. A. Brewer, member first state board of agriculture, recalled by the people, a change in the state constitution being necessary to do the job.

The average number of people to each automobile in California is 5.16. In Alabama it is 28.5.

SENATE DEBATE UPON BONUS NEARS AN END
(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Senate consideration of the soldier's bonus bill neared an end today, but some senators doubted that the hope of those in charge of the measure for a final vote before adjournment to night would be realized. Half a dozen or more amendments remained to be acted upon and a number of senators desired to deliver addresses on the bill itself as well as the various changes proposed.

U. S. WOMAN IS DECORATED BY JAPAN

One of the rare instances of the decoration of a foreign woman by the Japanese government has just become publicly known. Mrs. Lillian Wentz of Washington, D. C., for twenty years a stenographer of the Japanese embassy there, was presented with the eight-pointed gold star of the Japanese Seventh Cross of the Sanctified Treasure, Seventh Grade, in recognition of her services to Japanese diplomats. This order, which follows in importance the Order of the Rising Sun and the Order of the Chrysanthemum, was founded in 1888 by Mikado Mutsuhito and consists of eight classes.

WOMEN PHYSICIANS MEET IN GENEVA

The first convention of the Medical Women's International Association is to be held in Geneva, September 4 to 7. This organization is made up of women physicians from fifteen countries. At the first convention they expect prominent women doctors from the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, Holland, Norway, Sweden, Serbia and Switzerland, and possibly from other countries. The association has a program of wide scope before it and the very fine ideal of getting members well enough acquainted to carry on the best international team work.

Nothing makes a man feel so mortal as the acquaintance of an oyster that has been too long away from its native sea.

With the Women of Today

By EDITH MORIARTY

Miss Marjorie Martin.

Miss Marjorie Martin, health expert of Brooklyn, New York, predicts that the next generation will be the most beautiful the world has known. She gives as the reason that the world will have learned to take care of its health.

Miss Martin has been chosen as executive director of the first National Standardized Health Exhibition to be held in Brooklyn in October. In heading this project Miss Martin is realizing one of her youthful dreams—that of directing a national enterprise—and she has the distinction of being the first woman in the United States to assume directorship of a national enterprise not distinctly feminine in character.

The exhibition idea originated with Miss Martin and she has the co-operation of a number of leading medical and health bodies, including the New York City Health Department. Miss Martin received her training in health work in nursing and welfare positions.

Discussing health conditions she hinted that the vanity of some women is ruining their health while vanity appealed to in the right way can be the means of women keeping in good condition by exercise, diet and moderation in all things.

U. S. WOMAN IS DECORATED BY JAPAN

One of the rare instances of the decoration of a foreign woman by the Japanese government has just become publicly known. Mrs. Lillian Wentz of Washington, D. C., for twenty years a stenographer of the Japanese embassy there, was presented with the eight-pointed gold star of the Japanese Seventh Cross of the Sanctified Treasure, Seventh Grade, in recognition of her services to Japanese diplomats. This order, which follows in importance the Order of the Rising Sun and the Order of the Chrysanthemum, was founded in 1888 by Mikado Mutsuhito and consists of eight classes.

NEW FROCKS

Beautiful Modes Inspired By Those from Far Distant Lands

Frocks are the most versatile of all the new things for Fall! Their styles are legion! The Old-World influence has gone its gamut in Frock affairs. Here are Frocks with Russian, Persian, Egyptian, classic Greek or Roman style details. Waistlines vary from the very low one of Russian origination to the prim, tight basque effects. Draped hip effects and the circular Skirt, are recent style modes.

CLOTH DRESSES

The Tailored and Semi-Tailored Frocks of finest quality Pique, Twill and Pique, braid trimmed and embroidered in self and high-color Bulgarian effects, clever in their cross-wise drapes or gracefully simple in long, straight lines.

For Street wear particularly, the Cloth Dresses are being chosen—and you will make no mistake in choosing now, while "newness" is still the thing with women.

INVITING BOBBY

By MOLLIE MATHER

(C. 1922, by Western Newspaper Union.)

Bliss was tying morning glories on the porch vine, when the letter came. Lizzie brought it over from the post office.

Bliss looked like a human morning glory—if such might be—with her soft pink cheeks and her violet eyes, and the very dancing lightness of her. The letter was from her stepmother, who spent most of the time abroad with her husband, whose business affairs called him there. Bliss and the stepmother were the best of friends, and it was this understanding friendship which left the girl in sole possession of her former home.

Lizzie, her own mother's trusted helper, was also left in charge.

The girl had been given her mother's family name, and those who loved her—and there were oh, so many—thought it the most appropriate name, for surely the bright presence, was as they said, a "blissfully happy one." "Trying, too, to make others as happy."

Bliss seated herself on a lower step to read her letter. It was written in behalf of some new-found friend of her mother's. "A dear woman," the letter said, "from our own home city, who, widowed, had come over here, with her young daughter. I have talked with her about you, of course, Bliss darling, and she was moved to write you—her inclosed letter speaks for itself."

Bliss unfolded the accompanying letter.

"My Dear Miss Carmen: Your mother has told me about you and your pretty home in the country village. I, who am far from home, wish that its hospitality might be extended, through your kindness, to my poor boy, left alone in the hot, dusty city. I know that Bobby is lonely without his mother—for, you see, he is my baby, and I'm afraid my friends are right when they say I have made myself too necessary to him. But that is a way of mothers. My little girl is with me here. I wonder if it is asking too much to suggest that you write him—just a little line, if you are busily occupied with other matters—and perhaps some time you will let him come out to sun himself in your lovely old-fashioned garden; I am seeing it through your mother's eyes. I know it would do my poor lonely Bobby a world of good, and I would be always, Yours most gratefully,

"ESTHER GALE."

Bliss bounced in to Lizzie. "Just think," she cried, in ever-ready sympathy, "of that poor boy left alone in the city, while his mother and little sister are away in Europe. I shall write for him to come, Lizzie, and you shall make him some of your famous cookies. It will really be pleasant to mother the motherless child." So Bliss sat down to her letter.

One evening at sundown Bliss was hanging a rope swing for her anticipated guest, beneath the apple tree, and was looking very young herself, when a man approached through the hedge.

He smiled, as he came near, then stooped to adjust the swing board, which lay at the girl's feet.

"Will you tell me," he inquired, where I may find Miss Bliss Carmen? An elderly lady, I would fancy her, as she is a friend of my mother. A well-meaning friend," added the man, and smiled again.

"I am Miss Carmen," she absently replied.

The man stared—rudely, she thought. "You!" he exclaimed.

Bliss nodded. "You wanted to see me?"

The man laughed. Then instantly he excused himself. "I was certain that a friend of my mother's as you stated you were in Bobbie's letter, must naturally be near my mother's age. Indeed—you are just a little girl in a swing."

Bliss slipped from the swing to stand before him. "What do you know of Bobby?" she asked.

The man stood up. "I am Bobby," he announced astonished. "I suppose mother is to blame for your mistake," he said. "She always refers to my sister as her little girl, though Sue has long been married. I, to my confusion, am her 'baby' because I happen to have been the youngest in the family. But—I did like my invitation, its true hospitality, the real thing all through."

From the open kitchen doorway came a spicy odor; Lizzie stood there curiously regarding the visitor.

Suddenly laughing, Bliss put out her hand to him. "I must keep my promise about the cookies," she said.

"And the hammock afterward?" she smiled into the violet eyes.

"And the hammock," agreed the girl.

And as they walked to the house together, he was thinking jubilantly: "That match-making mother of mine is on the right track at last."

Discriminating Dye Found.

A remarkable new dyestuff has been discovered that will select which piece of material it will dye and which it will not. By this means a white material can be placed in a bath of dyestuff and dyed two colors in one operation. Thus, a mixed material of cotton and artificial silk placed in a bath of the new dyestuff will come out with the cotton threads dyed blue and the silk fibers dyed red, yellow or orange, according to the particular dye used.

THROUGH JOY OR SORROW, THEY ARE ALL HUMAN

GRIEF

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28.—Mrs. Agnes Russell is only twenty. Time at her home passed slowly as she awaited for her husband to return from work.

She telephoned a neighbor and chatted. Her husband, trying to reach her by telephone, failed. When he succeeded, police were told, he remonstrated her.

Mrs. Russell is recovering from attempted suicide at the City hospital.

DEFEAT

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Walter Undaras, a struggling young Polish sculptor, dreamed of fame as he fashioned the clay that was to form a masterpiece.

The statue "Winged Victory" in the Art Institute gave his inspiration.

But art lovers only stared.

He shot and killed himself with "Winged Victory" looking down on his defeat.

FRIGHT

NORTH BERGEN, N. J., Aug. 28.—Mary Sabo, nineteen, laughed when Frank Kolaski, forty-eight, told her she'd go insane if she didn't marry him.

Now she's in Snake Hill Insane asylum.

Kolaski is held.

Police say she awoke to see Kolaski staring at her.

She screamed and went insane. Death took her mother.

LOVE

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28.—Charles Appolison wooed Mrs. Dolores Williams, twenty-seven, his restaurant partner, so she sold her interest, she says.

In an auto with Appolison and two others she says she was warned to "wed him or die."

She leaped from the auto.

She's at Lakeside hospital.

Appolison is held at police headquarters.

Children's Hour on Big Liner Tremendous Hit With Wee Folk

"Children's Hour" on S. S. George Washington

New York When Captain Harold A. Cunningham, commander of the Steamship George Washington of the United States Lines, instituted a "Children's Hour" aboard his vessel he little realized the furor the innovation would create. He is today being sought after by a number of publishers who are urging him to write a book of the short stories of the sea with which he has gladdened the hearts of little travelers.

On his recent arrival in port Captain Cunningham was greeted by a pile of mail that fairly staggered him. The letters came from children and grownups who were desirous of obtaining copies of the stories told by the genial captain. In creating the "children's hour" aboard the Steamship George Washington, which by the way, is the largest passenger vessel in operation under the American flag, Captain Cunningham wanted to give the wee voyagers something they would ever remember.

During the "children's hour" the little travelers are conducted to the office of the captain to listen to stories of the deep, blue sea. No grownups are permitted at the session. It is entirely for the little folk. Captain Cunningham has a great liking for children and his fund of sea stories is wellnigh inexhaustible.

Realizing that everything is being done for the comfort and entertainment of the grownups Captain Cunningham felt that something out of the ordinary should be done for the children and so came into being the "children's hour." The time chosen for the assembly of the children is usually set for the latter part of the afternoon when the captain is free from duty on the bridge. The children are assembled in the ship's lounge and guided by stewards to the captain's quarters. After shaking hands all around the captain greets the children with the story of Davey Jones and his famous locker at the bottom of the sea, the story of the Little Lost Albatross, the Convention of the Fishes, the Flying Dutchman and many others from his limitless repertoire.

The "children's hour" has been one of the most popular innovations introduced aboard the vessels of the United States Lines fleet. The children who have been fortunate enough to experience the thrill of meeting the commander of the big George Washington and listening to his stories have a memory that will never leave them. After the story session the captain allows the children to ask him questions and it is this part of the "children's hour" that is most trying to the commander. Here folk. Captain Cunningham has a great liking for children and his fund of sea stories is wellnigh inexhaustible.

What makes the ocean blue? Do they keep a crow in the crow's nest? Where do the sea gulls sleep? How can you see to steer the boat at night without headlights?

RAILWAY HANDS TO TESTIFY IN HERRIN TRIALS

(By the Associated Press)

MARION, Ill., Aug. 29.—Employees of an electrical railroad running between Marion and Herrin, Ill., and employees of a power house near which 19 non-union miners of the Lester strip mine were massacred last June, were the first witnesses called before the special grand jury investigating the Herrin mine war today.

The railroad and power house employees were said to have been eye witnesses to the "death march" on the strip mine workers and to the massacre which followed.

Attorney General J. Brundage of Illinois, who is in charge of the investigation, said the grand jury is going about its work with precision and that since abundant evidence was on hand, he did not expect the body to take very long to complete its work.

FISHING SLOOPS WILL RACE SOON

International Contests Beginning October 12 Draw Many Boats.

(By the Associated Press)
GLOUCESTER, Mass.—Five fishing sloops are seeking the honor of representing Yankee fishermen in the race for the International Fisherman's Trophy late in October. The elimination races will be sailed October 12, 13 and 14 off Eastern Point.

The vessels which will fight it out for the responsibility of trying to regain the trophy won last year by the Halifax fisherman Bluenose are expected to be Mayflower, Elizabeth Howard, Yankee, Henry Ford and L. A. Dunton.

Puritan, the pride of Gloucester, on which many a deep-sea fisherman pinned his faith in the great race this fall, lies piled up on the treacherous shore of Sable Island. Along the water front the old sea dogs say that the reason for Puritan's wreck last winter was that she developed a speed far greater than those on board realized and fetched up on Sable Island long before she was supposed to be near it.

Now Gloucester folk are turning to Henry Ford, which ran aground on Essex Beach when she was being launched in April and was seriously damaged. She was in port recently with a large cargo of salt cod and showed no structural defect as a result of her early mishap. But the fisherfolk wish that Henry Ford were a little longer and openly admit that the other Gloucester entrant, Elizabeth Howard, is too heavy.

From a Gloucester point of view the most profitable fisherman is one measuring between 90 and 105 feet at the waterline. For this reason they frowned upon Mayflower and Bluenose, which measures 111 feet at the waterline.

Mayflower Too Costly.

The principal criticism of Mayflower, barred from the race last year, was that those who built and owned her were not interested in the fishing industry and that her cost was almost $60,000—twice as much as the average cost of a Gloucester fisherman. Her carrying capacity also is less than the average fisherman. It is expected, however, that the International Committee will approve Mayflower's entry, as she has made a number of fishing trips. Although her profits have not been as large as in the case of some of the other vessels, owing to her high first cost, she has been fairly profitable to her owners.

The recent races of the New York Yacht Club off Marblehead attracted great interest among Gloucester fishermen who attended in large numbers to get pointers for their races two months hence.

While the deep-sea fishermen are unsurpassed in the art of getting the most out of their vessels under lower sails or in making runs in from the banks, they are not quite so versatile as the amateurs in the game of hitting the line a few seconds after the start.

In the races of the last two years they have had the benefit of the starting and light handling of a number of Marblehead amateurs. This year the rules permit only actual fishermen on the after deck, although there is provision for one observer.

URGE HOMES TO BURN WOOD AND CONSERVE COAL

(By the Associated Press)
READING, Pa.—The Berks County Conservation Association's campaign, urging throughout the county the use of timber of little marketable value to avert a possible fuel famine, has been endorsed by the state department of forestry at Harrisburg. The plea of the association to Berks land owners has already borne fruit, and many householders have laid in a supply of wood. The association is posting placards throughout the county urging householders to use cord wood cut from such timber, in order to save coal for hospitals, schools, churches and industries.

Harvey F. Heintz, president of the association, has received the following letter from Major R. Y. Stuart, State Commissioner of forestry:

"I think the Berks County Conservation Association's plan of calling the attention of the public to the availability of suitable wood, particularly blighted chestnut, for fuel as a means of averting distress this winter, is an excellent one. The department in turn is encouraging the use of chestnut on the state forests for this purpose. I believe the campaign will do much good, particularly in those sections of the state wherein it is feasible to use wood as fuel without a change in equipment. Further, to the extent to which blighted chestnut can be utilized, the owner and forest are benefited."

Traffic Stops; Drivers Cuss; Shiny Nose Causes Fuss

BY JACK HEIL

This happened in Detroit, but in any other town it's just the same. It was during the rush hour. Traffic swarmed up and down Grand River avenue and Second avenue.

Naturally being in the town made famous by Henry Ford, the man who made walking a pleasure, flivvers were jammed in among the autos until the poor traffic cops were just about ready to pass out of the picture.

As the traffic cop threw out the "STOP" sign of Second boulevard traffic, a woman, driving a snappy roadster, stopped with a jerk. Seven pedestrians almost had heart failure getting out of the way. Quietly she watched the autos pass along Grand River avenue. Acting Mayor C. Lodge in his machine was right behind the lady and the roadster.

Impatient drivers farther back were honking their horns—as drivers do—much to the amusement of the traffic pilot.

Then he gave Second boulevard traffic the "GO" sign. Scores of motors roared their approval simultaneously. All but the one in the snappy roadster.

On the one side of the street traffic raced past the traffic cop, but on the other it was strangely passive. He looked around. Stared. Rubbed his eyes and stared some more.

The roadster hadn't even started. Cars behind, even lodge's, honked their impatience.

Half way over the stalled roadster the copper saw the light. Also he saw the fair driver diligently powdering her nose with the aid of a small mirror parked on the steering wheel and to the accompaniment of raucous honks and muffled oaths or at least naughty words.

The copper motioned frantically. The only effect being a few more leisurely dabs and quizzical glances into the mirror.

Then he spoke. As he did so he was greeted with a tilt of a carefully be-powdered nose, a freezing look and a fleeting glance at the rear end of the speeding roadster. He went back to his semaphore thoroughly subdued, muttering, "She should hurry."

scrupulous rival manufacturer, through his agents, reports to all sorts of trickery to stop the little car in its dash across the country.

One consists in setting fire to a long stretch of straw on a sandy roadway. Another is to dig deep ruts in the road and curve them so they will land the wheels of a fast car off into the ditch at the side. Another is the seemingly accidental fiasco of a highway tunnel by a huge truck from which a wheel has been taken.

This was intended, in the story, to hold up and delay the winning car until the car entered by the rival faction could catch up. But Wallace Reid as Jimmie Dent, driving the "flivver" racer, thwarts the plans of the villains by turning off and driving through the railway cut, emerging therefrom just in time to escape a fast limited train which pursues him through the tunnel.

The picture was directed by Philip Rosen and contains a goodly

NEWS NOTES MOVIELAND

After completing his forthcoming picture in which he takes the part of the brave and merry rogue, Robin Hood, Douglas Fairbanks may lay aside his grease paint for a time and specialize as a picture producer exclusively. He has had the screen rights to "The Virginian" for some time but instead of playing it himself he thinks he may produce the picture with some other star in the feature role.

"It is a question," explains Douglas Fairbanks, "whether people will accept me as the Virginian, that slow-moving, soft-speaking, easygoing hero of the plains that Owen Wister made all America love. Temperamentally I am just the opposite of the Virginian. I always move to a swift tempo, and if I do play the Virginian I respect him so much that I will play him exactly as the author created him. And that's not the kind of person the public expects me to depict on the screen."

If Fairbanks does make "The Virginian" he will take his company to the Jackson Hole country, and make this picture on the Virginian's home "stamping ground."

SHORT REELS

D. W. Griffith, at his Mammoth studio, is now filming a feature which has been given the working title of "At the Grange." Betty Jewel, who has been talked of as Griffith's latest, "discovery," will have an important role in the new film.

"A Girl's Desire" is the next feature starring Alice Calhoun, for release early this fall. It's a story of oil promotions, bogus noblemen and social climbers.

Elaine Hammerstein and Conway Tearle are now working in "Blazing Sands." George Archibald is directing.

Mildred Harris has been engaged to appear in Marshall Neilan's first

Douglas Fairbanks as "Robin Hood" picture for Goldwyn, "The Stranger's Banquet."

George Stewart, Anita's brother, is to become a member of the Christie company. He will appear in the leading male roles with Dorothy Devore.

Theodore Roberts, Leatrice Joy and Eva Novak will be the chief supporters of Thomas Meighan when he starts work on "The Man Who Saw Tomorrow," another Perley Poore Sheehan story.

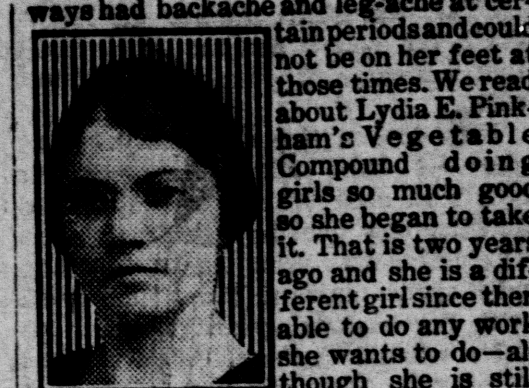

Eleanor Boardman, the winner of a recent film aspirants' contest conducted by Goldwyn in New York, has been chosen to appear in Marshall Neilan's "The Stranger's Banquet."

GIRL NOW WELL AND STRONG

Daughter Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as Mother Advised

Wauson, Ohio.—"My daughter always had backache and leg-ache at certain periods and could not be on her feet at those times. We read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound doing girls so much good so she began to take it. That is two years ago and she is a different girl since then able to do any work she wants to do—although she is still careful not to do heavy work—and so well and strong. We recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers with ailing daughters, and I give you permission to publish this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. A. M. Burkholder, Route No. 2, Box 1, Wauson, Ohio.

Something out of balance will affect the finest clock, causing it to gain or lose. The proper adjustment made, all is well. So it is with women. Some trouble may upset you completely.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct the cause of the trouble and disagreeable symptoms will disappear as they did in the case of Mrs. Burkholder's daughter.

Hoover Hopes Ford Will Continue His Automobile Plants

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Present coal prices would only add $1.25 to the price of Ford cars, Secretary Hoover declared today in expressing hope that the Detroit manufacturer would not find it necessary to close his plants because of the price of fuel.

May Close Sept. 16
DETROIT, Aug. 29.—Unless the Ford Motor company receives coal from an unexpected source it will close all its manufacturing departments in the Detroit district September 16.

This statement was made at Mr. Ford's office today in answer to a rumor circulated in Detroit and elsewhere to the effect that a way had been found out of the company's fuel problems.

PHONES MAY BE RECEIVERS FOR RADIO MESSAGE

(By the Associated Press)
EVERETT, WASH., Aug. 29.—Telephones in Everett, although equipped with a device which measures conversation, are to be made into wireless receiving stations through the use of an attachment applied by the Puget Sound Telephone Co., an independent corporation which serves this city.

To hear concerts, news bulletins and other features thrown onto the air by broadcasting stations of Seattle, 30 miles from here, Everett radio fans, who also are telephone subscribers, will simply hook their radio receiving sets onto the attachment, which is known as the radio adapter, and which will fit into the telephone box. Expensive aerials and wiring will not be needed.

In addition to supplying the adapter, the telephone company, working with the Seattle Radio Association, will mail to its radio subscribers weekly programs of the broadcasting stations and will collect $5 a year from each fan to defray the cost. The Seattle association hopes to have telephones in all other cities within a radius of 100 miles, equipped with the adapter.

The conversation-measuring device which, it is said, is not used anywhere else in the world, has been operated here for eight months, and enables this company to charge for the telephone service according to the length of the conversations.

When many residents found that the device, called the telechromometer, increased their monthly bills, they protested to the State Department of Public Works, which is to hold a hearing September 6 to decide whether the affair must be abandoned. In the meantime 629 Everett residents have signed applications for new telephones to be installed if the machine is given up. Friends of the telechromometer say that some of the opposition was caused by the fact that it made "listening in" on party lines cost just as much for every minute the telephone receiver is off the hook.

GIRL WAS SLAIN BY HAMMER BLOW

Body of Edna Skinner is Reburied as Autopsy is Completed.

(By the Associated Press) BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Aug. 29.—The body of Edna Skinner, which on Sunday was exhumed for the purpose of holding an autopsy to determine whether or not she had been slain, has been returned to the grave. Albert J. Lowe is being held at Greeley, Colo., in connection with the case.

Louis B. Reed, district attorney at Greeley, said the fracture of the skull is circular and indicates a blow was struck with a hammer. He said he expects to bring the case to trial at the earliest possible moment.

"We have the tank of the gasoline stove and we can prove conclusively that there was no explosion," said Mr. Reed. "We have the skull of the dead girl to show that she was struck presumably with a hammer. The nature of the burns and the burned portion of the floor indicates that gasoline was poured over the body and set fire. We have other incriminating evidence, for instance, the letter to Mrs. Lowe in an effort to entice her to a lonely spot."

C. of C. Secretaries Assemble at Chicago for Training School

(By the Associated Press) CHICAGO, Ill., August 29.—Nearly 300 men and women secretaries of chamber of commerce of the United States and Canada are gathered here for the second annual session of the National School for Commercial Secretaries, which opened August 21 and will continue to September 2.

The school is being held by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the National Association of Commercial Organization secretaries and Northwestern University. The attendance at this session is almost one-third larger than that of the first session last year.

The purpose of the school is to give secretaries an intensive two weeks course in the varied phases of commercial secretary work. The staff of instructors is composed of authorities on chamber of commerce work, college and university professors and prominent business men. Included in this group are Julius H. Barnes, president of the United States, and Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern University. Included in this year's list of students is more than a score of women who now are secretaries in chamber of commerce work or contemplate entering work of that nature.

CHURCH SURVEYS ITS YEAR'S WORK AT ANNUAL MEET

(By the Associated Press) WINONA, IND., Aug. 29.—Representatives of more than 1,500,000 members of the Disciples of Christ (Christian Church) will appraise the work of the denomination at the annual international convention to be held here beginning today and continue through Sunday, September 3.

"Around the world is the theme of the convention program which will be opened Tuesday afternoon with the readings of reports of the various church enterprises. Directing boards of the church's organizations met Monday afternoon and Tuesday forenoon preceding the convention opening.

The Rev. Stephen E. Fisher of Urbana, Ill., will deliver the opening convention address. Dr. Fisher is president of the convention. The convention sermon will be preached Sunday morning by Dr. Vernon Stauffer, professor in the divinity department of Transylvania College, Lexington, Ky.

Acute problems of denominational faith and policy will come up for settlement during the convention, leaders here predict. One question will be the removal of the College of Missions from Indianapolis to some great University center. Invitations have been extended to locate at the University of Chicago, Yale and Columbia Universities. The removal is advocated by the college officials in the interest of more adequate training for missionaries.

FARMERS TO GET FREE ACIDS FOR CLEARING LANDS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Farmers of the country this fall will be able to save hundreds of thousands of dollars in clearing their land of stumps, in drainage work and in other efforts requiring blasting through the use of picric acid, salvaged from surplus war explosives which will be distributed by the United States bureau of roads, it was announced today. The only cost to the farmer, who may obtain the explosive through any state agricultural college or agricultural state extension service, will be a charge of six cents a pound for drying the acid and placing it in cartridges and in addition, the small expense of transportation.

Clarita State Bank May be Reopened if Bad Paper is Light

(By the Associated Press) OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 29.—Possibility that the First State bank of Clarita, closed several weeks ago by the state banking department, may be re-opened, was voiced today by State Banking Commissioner Walcott. Several parties, according to the commissioner, are ready to take over resources and legitimate deposits of the institution provided questionable certificates and other deposits would not consist of a lien upon its resources.

An opinion from the attorney general's department on this phase is being awaited before any action is taken.

Wally Reid in New Racing Picture.

Wallace Reid, Paramount star, who has been seen in several pictures as a racing driver in which he drove big powerful cars around the track, pilots a small "flier" type of racer in his latest vehicle, "Across the Continent," which shows at the McSwain theatre today. This small "bug" is no snail, however, for it dashes across the continent at the rate of eighty-five miles per hour, which is about as fast as it can be run and kept on the ground.

It is said that the only Chinese automobile race driver is Jim Chy, a resident of Canton, China.

Parasite Works on Weevils. By Ernest E. Scholl Extension Entomologist, A. and M. College.

A parasite is a living organism that depends upon the life of some other living thing for its existence. In the insect world there is a tendency for nature to keep an equilibrium by affording conditions that will make it possible for certain insects to hold in check certain other insects that are destructive to vegetation. In this manner the destructive species to our crops that are native of this country are largely controlled. Imported or migratory insects that damage crops, usually come to a new territory without their parasites, and therefore are very destructive before new insect enemies attack them or until the old parasites follow.

Several different species of boll weevil parasites have been found in Oklahoma in the last few days. Specimens were taken at Pauls Valley, Ada, Wagoner, Poteau, McAlester and Guthrie. They will be found in many other cotton fields also.

These small parasitic insects, most of which are in the pupa stage of development, having fed on the larvae and pupa of the boll weevil, develop very quickly and emerge as small wasps, some of them smaller than a knat. They soon get busy again depositing their eggs on the immature boll weevil stages.

Some of these parasites feed and breed upon a co-host of the boll weevil. In this case, a co-host is a weevil, or other insect that can support the life and development of a boll weevil parasite. Some of these co-hosts have their larval stages in the stems, flowers or seeds of weeds in, and adjacent to, cotton fields, and are often heavily parasitized. Cutting the weeds in early summer destroys the co-hosts and many of the parasites go to cotton fields where they attack boll weevils. This is one way of propagating boll weevil parasites.

In many sections where boll weevils have been for several years, a large percent of infested cotton squares are parasitized. Collecting and burning cotton squares early in the season destroys many stages of the weevils, but where a large percent of parasites are present, more harm than good is done by burning because the parasites are also burned and the work of collecting is a loss.

Collecting cotton squares can be made profitable, however, where labor is plentiful and not costly. provided these squares are placed in boxes and then covered with wire screening, using 16 meshes to the inch. This screening prevents the escape of the emerging boll weevils but allows the small wasp-like parasites to get out and continue their good work in the cotton fields.

This is another way to propagate boll weevil parasites.

Several species of ants are at work in this state, digging into squares and destroying young stages of boll weevils. In a few instances ambush bugs, related to the stink-bug family, have been found in blossoms and squares of the cotton plant suckling the life out of adult weevils.

The parasites of the boll weevils cannot control this pest alone. Even with their help and the help of useful birds, farmers must use every effort to reduce the number of weevils. This can be done by not permitting a large fall brood of weevils to develop, by reducing the hibernating adults in a thorough winter clean-up and by practicing frequent shallow culture during the growing period of a quick fruiting variety of cotton that has been planted on a well prepared seed bed.

"Scalpers" Numerous in Japan.

TOKIO—There are brokers for practically everything in Japan, who operate as did the old "Ticket Scalpers" in America. Telephone and steamship passage brokerage are well recognized industries, and owing to the difficulty in getting telephones installed by the government and frequent delays in securing passages, these brokers generally do well. A new form of brokerage, however, has appeared in Kobe. During an enquiring into the forging of bank books with which the forgers secured 160,000 yen from money lenders, it was discovered that brokers were doing a big business.
